Comments: The Forest Service should not intervene in what should occur naturally by burning such extensive areas of wilderness including Ansel Adams, Dinkey Lakes, John Muir, Kaiser, Kiawah South Sierra, Jennie Lakes, Monarch, Dome Land, and Golden Trout Wilderness. These should burn naturally with lightning strikes caused by nature.

Allow nature's wisdom to protect these lands instead of trusting in human foolishness and stupidity. Only a fool tries to control nature. All we can succeed in doing is to protect nature and when we try to control a natural untamable force, it results in our own peril. Learn from the wisdom of indigenous peoples.
