Comments: The Forest Service should exclude all of the designated Wildernesses from its proposed burning plans for the Sequoia and Sierra National Forests in order to comply with the Wilderness Act. The agency should instead allow natural, lightning-caused fire to play its ecological role in Wilderness on the Sequoia and Sierra National Forests. I am concerned about this matter as some of America's most loved Wilderness areas are at stake! Included in these most loved areas are Ansel Adams, Dinkey Lakes, John Muir, Kaiser, South Sierra, Dome Land, and Jennie Lakes Wildernesses.
