

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 11/17/2023 1:21:59 AM

First name: Tricia

Last name: van Oers

Organization:

Title:

Comments: You don't do this in wilderness areas! That's totally screwed up.

It would require roads and much more, and is not the way to go.

Instead, the Forest Service should exclude all of the designated Wildernesses from its proposed burning plans for the Sequoia and Sierra National Forests in order to comply with the Wilderness Act.

The agency should instead allow natural, lightning-caused fire to play its ecological role in Wilderness on the Sequoia and Sierra National Forests.