Comments: This project is being planned to include the preemptive burning of huge tracts of designated Wilderness, including Jennie Lakes, South Sierra, John Muir, Dinkey Lakes, Ansel Adams and many more. Over 800,000 acres of our most treasured wild places are slated for massive unnatural manipulation. This is against the spirit and the word of the Wilderness Act. The protection of these areas is extremely important, but in Wilderness areas we need to set aside our human cravings for control and let natural processes take care of the environment even when it may endanger surrounding areas.
