

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 11/19/2023 9:09:19 PM

First name: Trinity

Last name: Robinson

Organization:

Title:

Comments: If bolts are considered installments then so are signs, trails, cairns, etc. it is clear to me that the wilderness act intended to prohibit buildings. There are many ways to interpret a law however removing the ability to maintain climbing routes in wilderness will increase the risks imposed on the public. Public lands are for the public not just for lobbying groups and commercialization. It is imperative that the public maintains the ability to recreate on public land.