Comments: When I read there is a quest for more gas and oil, it makes me so sad. The Earth for future inhabitants is going to be so ugly. At 87, after living in Calif., Oregon, Washington, Arizona, Virginia, and traveling all over in the parks and different states, I can tell you with absolute truth and certainty that the Earth has become ugly with no wildlife . flora, forests and air that I have enjoyed in the past.

People still need gas and oil, but we should not continue using it. Profits and stockholders and big business better realize that the land is the most important thing humans have to sustain life, and the way we have mistreated the land is a big crisis now and worse for the future. Don't perpetuate the old way, look for solutions beyond oil and gas . Oil and gas will only hasten mankind's demise.
