

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 12/5/2023 6:24:13 PM

First name: Elisabeth

Last name: van Casteren

Organization:

Title:

Comments: I disagree with the proposed limitation on climbing anchors in wilderness. As a relatively new climber, installations like anchors provide me with safe ways to enter and practice this beautiful sport. Whereas hikes (I'm a trail runner & hiker myself) are enabled by trails, climbs are enabled by bolts/anchors. Both let you thoroughly enjoy the amazing nature the US has to offer, and I'm impressed by it every time. Bolts in that sense don't take away from that beauty but add to it - in a safe way.