Comments: I would like to commend the USFS and BLM for trying to protect as much of our Public Land and Forests as possible. We the American Public are going to face severe effects from Climate Change. Every acre of Natural Environment we protect which includes every tree, bush, stream and animal will be necessary to help our natural environment adapt and survive the changes. This ability of the Natural Environment to adapt will be critical for us to survive the changes ourselves. Because if our Natural Environments do not survive well we will not survive well.

Thank You for what you or doing.
