Comments: Please do not introduce any sort of new ban or restrictions on fixed rock climbing anchors. These are critical portions of a climbing safety system, and climbing is a historied and devoted activity in our forests and wildernesses.

Climbers are some of the biggest stewards of parks in the modern day (see eg. Yosemite Facelift) and want to work collaboratively to respect, protect, and enjoy our public lands.

Continue the system that has worked for many years, and support the installation and maintenance of fixed anchors.
