Comments: I oppose the BDNF outfitter and guide user days being increased to 33,146 days. I am in favor of keeping the user days at 13,175. I use the National Forests for recreation and this proposed increase will serve to make our trails and camp sites more crowded. The proposal takes away our public lands so that the rich and wealthy can economically benefit from the increase in day usage. More user days adversely affects our wildlife and fisheries because increased usage usually results in more trash, erosion, and habitat destruction on Forest lands. This proposed increase in user days seems to be based on economic reasons and benefits people who don't value the true meaning and purpose of public lands. I just hope you would do the right thing for once and stand up to the commercialization and misuse of our public lands by rejecting this increase in user outfitter and guide user days. Thank you for reading this comment. John Conlan
