Comments: It is ridiculous to flip flop on rules around climbing anchors and management. Why is fixed gear all of a sudden a problem now and we must change our ways?

I think its really silly for USFS to be wasting tax payer dollars on drafting up rules around climbing hardware. Instead of wasting money time and resources on restricting bolt placements how about we focus on really preserving what truly matters! Everyday there's corporations in the energy sector encroaching on our parks and wilderness. Get your heads of your ass.
