

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 12/22/2023 2:30:55 PM

First name: Danny

Last name: Miller

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Please let us climbing! Do not take our bolts.

As a climber of 10 plus years in the NC wilderness, climbing has taught me to care more for mother nature than anything else on this planet! As a climber we have to respect the land. We are the only people out on the walls taking care of them. Using removable gear when possible is a great feeling and a standard for most NC crags! I want to put this in a simple analogy.... taking our bolts away where bolts are needed or not letting us replace what already exists is like asking someone to drive with out a seat belt. Why take safety from the people that care about these places the most