Comments: Fixed Anchors, my comment for permanent record:

As a member of The Mountaineers and climber I don't always agree with their collective opinion, which is the case re. FIXED ANCHORS in Wilderness.

Fixed anchors do not belong in Wilderness... as don't; mines, roads, bicycles, chainsaws, drones, GUNS etc.

Banning Fixed Climbing Anchors in Wilderness will force climbers to improvise new nonpermanent anchor tech or simply make some routes unclimbable by the less skilled and some just impossible for anyone... which is OK, as hopefully there will always be some that are impossible.
