

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 12/31/2023 3:50:19 PM

First name: Jaclyn

Last name: souza

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Stop! This is a terrible idea. Restricting the establishment of new routes to "existing climbing opportunities" on non-Wilderness lands is unenforceable and will create confusion amongst land managers and climbers. Non-Wilderness climbing management policy should maintain opportunities for new anchors unless and until analyses determine climbing should be restricted to protect cultural and natural resources.