Comments: Please do not ban fixed anchors in wilderness areas, instead continue to develop guidelines for sustainable, compatible development. We can make anchors that have minimal impact and facilitate safe climbing and safety for the first responders rescuing both climbers and hikers.

I have climbed for 30+ years and been bolting for the last 10. We have developed local guidelines that our local governments and agencies have adopted. They are now used for climbers, slackliners, and high angle rescue incidents and training.

Thank you for your consideration,

Patrick
