Comments: This is unnecessary regulation and it will have only negative consequences.

Banning what is being done for lack of understanding will result in harm.

bolts are critical, anchors are critical, and provide one of the least impactful ways to enjoy the outdoors.

It is very easily arguable that the hiking paths around the parks have far greater impact on the area than these 3/8-1/2" bolts which are difficult to find.

wait until there is a problem, then fix it. Self regulation has worked for years and it has been the method not due to lazyness, but because each situation is unique. Each bolt is placed for a reason.
