Comments: Maintenance of fixed anchors is critical to keeping people safe. Basic maintenance & care of current fixed anchors can & will prevent catastrophic injuries in the future. Rock climbing is NOT going away. Creating a way to allow the masses to do so safely is a prudent endeavor that should be at the forefront of your conversations. I would wager to say that an extremely late amount of the recreational use of your land is by climbers in a large part of our country. Please listen us & work with us so that this can be done safely now & for future generations
