Comments: Fixed anchors are an essential piece of climbers' safety system and are not prohibited "installations" under the Wilderness Act. Following existing climbing policies that allow judicious use of fixed anchors for more than a half century will do more to protect Wilderness character while providing for primitive and unconfined Wilderness climbing.

I have planned for more than 30 years all over the world. The vast majority of countries are making Climbing safer by allowing anchors and fixed gear. It is a huge mistake for the United States, go backwards and its policies. The vast majority of people that come to national parks spend on an average two hours just driving through the park. Climber spend weeks. Please don't make it unsafe for us.
