Comments: Anchors in wilderness climbing areas are essential to the safety of anyone who decides to go climbing in these areas, they have existed for decades and are embedded in the history of climbing including our most famed and sought after routes all across the country. To ask for these to not exist anymore is unreasonable and to take away the ability to update and upkeep old anchors is jeopardizing the safety of any climber who has to use them. Please allow anchors to exist in wilderness areas, we need them!
