

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 1/6/2024 3:11:06 AM

First name: Ben

Last name: Gilkison

Organization:

Title:

Comments: A broad fixed anchor ban in the wilderness would take away the safety system for thousands of routes and create unsafe conditions for climbers, putting lives at risk. Without fixed anchors climbers wouldn't have the tools necessary to explore the vast vertical wilderness---one that promotes and lifts the human spirit. A moratorium on fixed anchors would lead to confusion, injury, and is unenforceable by land managers. Ben Gilkison