Comments: Thank you for protecting our Wilderness. These are some of our most precious places, and as a long-time fellow land steward, I am grateful for the intentionality that you are giving to the stewardship and care of these areas. It is vital to uphold the inherent values of nature that is untrammelled by humanity; not all places need to be available and accessible to all uses. I know it is difficult to have to say "no" to the pressures of various user groups, and I laud you for doing your critical thought, work, and long-term follow-through to uphold the values of Wilderness and Nature. Thank you.
