

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 1/6/2024 10:32:04 PM

First name: Judy

Last name: Perez

Organization:

Title:

Comments:

As an eighty-year old climber of more than fifty years, I still love rock climbing in our National Forests and Parks. Bolts in selected strategic locations can help to make climbing safer and allow people to more easily appreciate the beauty of these special areas that must be preserved. I hope you will reconsider the new proposal on bolting and work with organizations like the Access Fund to create a proposal that preserves our wild areas and allows for their enjoyment by everyone.