

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 1/9/2024 8:28:05 PM

First name: Michael

Last name: Metcalf

Organization:

Title:

Comments: :To whom it may concern

Fixed anchors otherwise known as bolts are a life-saving invention and responsible for sustainable sport and recreational climbing throughout the world. When done properly which most are a protect thousands if not millions The people enjoying our natural resources. The current policies struck a good balance between recreation and the sense of wilderness these should stay the same. Please do not change the policy when it comes to fixed anchors in parks or any other federally managed areas