Comments: Hi,

I've been climbing for 27 years. Climbing anchors in the wilderness and national forests are an essential part of the sport. We rely on them for safe recreation. I believe that managing fixed anchors could be integrated with sustainable wilderness management. Climbers have first hand interest in preserving rock and can be partners in the wilderness stewardship. Please follow the precedent and allow the use, maintenance and replacement of the fixed hardware in the designated areas.

Thank you

Dmitriy
