Comments: This seems so obvious and after all these years, we, as a society have not learned our lesson. Trees are necessary for cleaner air and we need cleaner air. Preserving the old Forest is essential and the logging of older trees should never be permitted after the many years of logging. I saw this logging in Montana and then rolling the logs down the hillside and create further damage. Will we never learn until every tree in the Old Forest has been cut down and rolled out and left the destruction behind. And yet we claim to be caring and careful but it is just not true. It may be too late to stop our crimes against nature. I hope not.
