Comments: Prohibiting anchors would be a safety risk for current and future climbers reducing recreation in these outdoor spaces. Climbers should be discrete and minimal in the use of protection to allow for minimal environmental impact. However having safe anchors allows for more people to explore the outdoors while trying to reduce the impact on emergency medical that has to help when unfortunate things happen. The goal should be to allow safe anchors to increase outdoor recreation a of all kinds while working with the local community to reduce environmental impact of the recreation.
