Comments: This bill will lead to the exclusion of climbers from enjoying their public lands, paid for by their tax dollars. I pay over 50k in taxes a year, and now you are trying to prevent me from my passion, which is rock climbing. Being able to use the public land that my tax dollars fund, is the only reason I feel ok with being taxed. Public land means all users should have access. If fixed anchors are removed or prohibited, you are discriminating against a specific user group. In order for this to be enforced equally, you now need to eliminate roads and building from the same said public lands.
