

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 1/14/2024 5:01:05 PM

First name: Jake

Last name: ES

Organization:

Title:

Comments: A bolting ban would seriously lower the quality of life of thousands of climbers. In reality, climbers are some of the most LNT conscious outdoor recreators. Climbers are good stewards of the land and many consider outdoor climbing an essential tenent of their livelihood.

I understand regulating new bolts being placed, but denyign access to safely replace existing bolts will result in preventable deaths. A highly regulated permitting system for replacing bolts would be much more beneficial than an outright ban.