

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 1/16/2024 3:31:07 PM

First name: Daniel

Last name: Rickert

Organization:

Title:

Comments: Fixed anchors are an essential part of being able to recreate in the mountains. Brightly colored slings and webbing (aka tat) should not be allowed, but I believe that hand drilled, low profile bolts are essential to climbers being able to enjoy a wilderness experience. I would like the NPS to consider allowing climbers to place hand drilled bolts, but ban the use of brightly colored slings and webbing.