Data Submitted (UTC 11): 1/16/2024 4:32:39 PM
First name: Daniel
Last name: Kaye
Organization:
Title:
Comments: Classifying existing fixed anchors, which are often no more than two tiny bolts you can barely see from anywhere, as an 'installation' and saying they can no longer be maintained seems extremely dangerous. Climbers are one of the most pro-nature groups out there, and love using the land protected by our parks, this seems like a superbly dangerous and anti-climber proposal, that would only take a tiny bit of language adjustment to avoid.