Comments: To whom it may concern,

I trust we can continue to be stewards of this great community in helping the next generation practice fixed anchor establishment and replacement as we have in the past and currently. No power drills in wilderness areas and keep sport climbing areas sport and traditional areas the same. I and many other climbers as a whole have done a good job at fixed anchor practice and I believe will continue to do so with your support. I Sally hope we can continue to keep wilderness, wilderness just as it has been for so long. Surely with more people comes change and we can all work together to make the best decisions and keep wilderness areas and wildlife as pristine as its been for years. These places are so special to so many people, famalies and communities that have an unexpressable amount of love, respect and would do anything to protect it for future generations to enjoy it just as we have. I trust that many of you feel the same, Thank you for your time-Jon
