

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 1/18/2024 12:15:11 AM

First name: Karen

Last name: Moore

Organization:

Title:

Comments: There are very few old growth trees left. We need to protect what is left for future generations. Trees provide oxygen for us and future generations need that. Also the recreational opportunities add value to the lives of all who participate. Keeping old growth trees provides habitats for many wild creatures. There is evidence that the old growth trees help mitigate climate change.