

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 1/18/2024 12:20:26 AM

First name: Susan

Last name: Harris

Organization:

Title:

Comments: It is hard for me to fathom why any logging of old growth trees should be considered. We are in a fight for life with the exponential results of global warming. Oxygen will be a huge factor. To reduce the number of large plants that absorb CO<sub>2</sub> and give out O<sub>2</sub> is ridiculous. Money to be garnered from logging cannot be a factor in the consideration of how to handle global warming and the future of all species.