Comments: Fixed anchors are a necessary part of climbing

Climbing is a legitimate use of public lands

I'm a voting / tax payer that considers this an assault on my freedom to experience the outdoors. I volunteer regularly to clean up and help keep wilderness pristine.

I'm strongly opposed to the idea that fixed anchors could be banned. This result would be devastating to a community driven to being stewards of the environment and we self regulate. And anchors need to be a necessary part of climbing.
