

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 1/19/2024 4:38:31 PM

First name: Doug

Last name: Jeffries

Organization:

Title:

Comments: I completely agree with prohibiting installation of anchors for climbing. By definition if that means rock climbers cannot climb those rock faces, that's the way it goes. Drilled anchors become permanent installations and if you don't take it with you when you leave, then it should not be allowed. The rest of the public land users should not have their wilderness experience defaced by permanently installed manmade devices of any kind.