Comments: I have watched miles of beautiful trees in Jeffersonville Indiana get demolished for overpriced housing units, doing nothing to enhance the life of those people around it because they are unattainably overpriced. Someone in Jeffersonville, Indiana is getting rich off of this, and it's certainly not the environment nor the people who live here. You can no longer see eagles and ravens and wildlife -like deer roaming in the hills over by Vissing park because we've removed the ability for them to have a place to live. We keep closing our eyes to this disaster that we are creating because we the working poor don't have the control that you all do. Someone needs to stand up for the planet. I'm ashamed to be a human being right now because we're destroying our resources faster than it will ever heal from..
