Comments: In this time of climate change it is crucial to save all old growth forests. Their abundance of carbon capture is critical now and in the future. These old trees play a critical role in protecting earth from climate change that is out of control. And for every old growth tree that is cut down, for profit or monetary benefit, that tree's huge reservoir of carbon into the atmosphere.

While President Biden's proposal is a good start, it must be changed to save ALL old growth trees. Profit must take a back seat to preserving our homes, our planet. It really is no choice!!!
