Comments: Since the talk of fixed anchors is on the topic, let's ban hiking trails they are gross and not natural. Let's ban camping of any type, it's an eye sore and people should stay in hotels or stay home and not appreciate the outdoors. Whom ever that cancelling climbing in national parks and national forest must be really upset at others having fun or trying to justify their cubical position and just got a liberal arts major degree. Oh yeah, no mountain bike trails either, that would allow people t have fun. What a joke, I mean forest circus this agency has become.
