

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 1/23/2024 5:59:42 PM

First name: Adam

Last name: Bower

Organization:

Title:

Comments: I think the blanket disapproval until review is harsh, unnecessary, and shortsighted. Climbers are low impact users, and climbing anchors are not unsightly. Additionally, the practice of 'it's closed until we re approve it' is far too often left unfinished, creating defacto permanent closures. These are improper closures as a result of bureaucracy. Instead, leave everything as it is. If reviews need to be done, perform the review FIRST, then make a change after.