Comments: Please keep the heritage of wilderness climbing alive. That means responsible use of fixed hardware for safety processes only. This is by no means a place for grid bolted sport climbing but like every hot botton subjects these days, there is much nuance to this topic. Fixed hardware does not automatically equal grid bolted sport climbing. There are decades of climbing history with minimal and reasonable use of fixed hardware in our wilderness areas to experience our incredible mountain terrain safely. Please insure that this history continues for our passionate and responsible backcountry user group by continuing allow the use of fixed hardware in wilderness areas. Thank you for your time.
