Comments: To whom it may concern,

I am extremely concerned about the ban on anchors and fixed equipment in the National Forests and National Parks. Climbing is a huge part of the history and climbers are huge advocates, stewards, and get to see these lands in ways that are extremely important.

I am not saying that there should be bolts/tat everywhere, but they should be utilized for limiting accidents and making sure areas that are used heavily can keep people safe.

Climbing in these lands has had a profound effect on my life and some of the greatest experiences I have ever had. It should be a right of every American to experience these places and taking away this type of adventure would be a really sad future.
