Comments: Hello - North America only has a fraction of the old growth forests left, and this has created in large part a significant reason for Climate Change. If we had the old growth forests in the PNW left as they had been for thousands of years, these forests create cooler temps, and protect the earth overall from heating up. A few summers ago our temp hit 116 in June because these forests which protected our local climates, are in large part gone. Also, they are old growth because they did not burn, they don't cause fire. Please support protecting these beautiful areas from logging, capitalism and overall greed so a few will profit.
