Comments: I have been rock climbing for a couple years now and to remove bolt access makes rock climbing outside more dangerous. People will still attempt to climb some of these routes with or without protection. Bolts are one of the better ways to climb with ropes for newer climbers due to the financial restriction of purchasing traditional gear. Rock climbing also encourages people to be outside and enjoy the parks and public lands that you guysIf rock climbing is removed or restricted, it'll reduce the amount of usage our forests and public land gets.
