Comments: I am writing in opposition to this rule change. Prohibiting fixed anchors would restrict access for a responsible user group which has long worked to uphold wilderness character in some of our country's most iconic wilderness areas. This rule will result in fewer people enjoying our wilderness areas as promised by the wilderness act, more confusion, and potentially more dangerous situations requiring destructive rescues. It would also create a tremendous amount of administrative burden on federal parks agencies and the public. I strongly encourage you to reconsider this regulation. Thank you for your time
