

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 1/29/2024 4:53:23 PM

First name: Brandon

Last name: Anon

Organization:

Title:

Comments: The world is meant to be explored and seen. Restricting the establishment of new routes to "existing climbing opportunities" on non-Wilderness lands is unenforceable and will create confusion amongst land managers and climbers. Non-Wilderness climbing management policy should maintain opportunities for new anchors unless and until analyses determine climbing should be restricted to protect cultural and natural resources.