Data Submitted (UTC 11): 1/29/2024 4:53:23 PM First name: Brandon Last name: Anon Organization: Title:

Comments: The world is meant to be explored and seen. Restricting the establishment of new routes to "existing climbing opportunities" on non-Wilderness lands is unenforceable and will create confusion amongst land managers and climbers. Non-Wilderness climbing management policy should maintain opportunities for new anchors unless and until analyses determine climbing should be restricted to protect cultural and natural resources.