

Data Submitted (UTC 11): 1/29/2024 6:25:12 PM

First name: Chris

Last name: Harrison

Organization:

Title:

Comments: I understand where you guys are coming from thinking bolting can be harmful to natural rock formations but that's frankly not the truth. Bolting is minimal and small creatures have been documented living inside old bolt holes. Additionally a bolt ban would take a sport like rock climbing which has a lot of inherent risk and make it even more unsafe. Finally people won't come to the parks that much anymore not only will you see a large dip in revenue but people will no longer be able to climb routes and enjoy the true beauty are parks have to offer