Comments: hello, I'm writing to you today to offer suggestions as to how to make climbing happen in these spaces.

First is that we need fixed anchors, they are essential at the top of a route for safety and security. This will do a better job of protecting the wilderness as well, as without fixed anchors other objects around a top out might get used (i.e. trees, boulders) that could actively destroy the land.

It doesn't make sense to prohibit these now despite them being allowed for half a century.
