Comments: I oppose the addition of the new section. The sport of climbing is a dangerous activity, but when the proper gear is used, it can be very safe. An essential piece of gear used in climbing are permanent anchors and bolts. Climbers across the country respect the outdoors and our public lands. We take care of the beautiful land that we have the opportunity to recreate on. Limiting access to bolted climbing areas will make the sport of climbing more dangerous, and destroy rock even faster.
