Comments: Please DO NOT prohibit the use of fixed anchors (bolts, pitons, slings) in America's Wilderness areas/national forests and parks. Restricting the establishment of new routes to "existing climbing opportunities" on non-Wilderness lands is unenforceable and will create confusion amongst land managers and climbers. Non-Wilderness climbing management policy should maintain opportunities for new anchors unless and until analyses determine climbing should be restricted to protect cultural and natural resources. PLEASE listen to these comments, and the climbing community as a whole. DO NOT go through with this legislation.
